JDF Distribution is the logistics services division of Daryl Flood Mobility Solutions (DFMS). In addition to logistics, DFMS provides household and business relocation services.

Reduce costs by storing and managing used office furniture and equipment for future use

Mergers, downsizing and office relocations are a reality of business today. Among the consequences: excess office furniture and equipment that is functional but no longer has a home. These assets, often valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, create multiple challenges. If the assets are not fully depreciated, disposing or liquidating them can result in a huge tax charge. If you hold on to furniture and equipment for future use, you'll need storage space on campus, as well as a system to carefully track each item for quick identification and retrieval.

Asset Management is JDF Distribution's comprehensive solution to store and manage used-but-functional assets for future use. Introduced in 1995, the service allows you to avoid costly new purchases and limit the financial impact of writing off non-depreciated assets.

When an item comes in, JDF tags, photographs and notes its condition. A bar code is affixed and the item is entered into the WMS for fast, easy tracking.

► Sound advice helps you make the right decision on keeping or liquidating used furniture and equipment.

The toughest challenge is deciding whether to dispose of, liquidate or redeploy the assets. JDF's experienced consultants have advised dozens of Fortune 500 and other companies on this dilemma. We'll listen to your needs, ask the right questions and help you determine what makes the most sense for your situation. Ultimately, this financial decision should be based on answers to key questions, including:

| Store and Redeploy Equipment | Dispose/Liquidate |
|--|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● What is the cost to store goods awaiting redeployment? ● What are the transportation costs to ship to a new location? | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Are the assets fully depreciated? ● What is their current book value? ● What is their current liquidation value? ● What are the tax implications if you write off assets that are not fully depreciated? ● What is the cost of purchasing the same amount of new equipment in the market? |

JDF bases its advice on a firm understanding of supply and demand for used and new equipment in your market. We'll help you make the right choice, even if that choice does not involve our solution.

▶ Computerized inventory tracking lets you know exactly what you have – by item number, size or description.

When an item comes in, we tag, photograph and note its condition. All key data – including depreciation schedules – are recorded in our inventory management system, which you can access on the web. Information is available online or via pre-programmed or customized reports. We can even create web pages that allow you to view the photos, for maximum control and ease of use.

▶ One provider eases your management burden, speeds project completion.

JDF is your single-source for storing, transporting and tracking your assets. If needed, our experienced teams can coordinate intra-office take-down and reassembly of any kind of equipment, from desks and chairs to computers and cabling. Equipment can be available for next day pick-up or delivery, allowing you to complete relocation and installation projects quickly.

Bottom line: you maintain control while we manage every detail of asset management, using systems and processes expressly designed for the purpose.

Other key features of JDF's asset management solution include:

- Cost-effective storage in modern, temperature-controlled and secure warehouse space. Full-color video surveillance, direct-wired alarms, pass-key entry system.
- National transportation capability to deliver equipment to any of your offices.
- Assistance with disposal or liquidation. Established network of liquidation channels to maximize return.

We'd like to be your partner for asset management. Call or email us today to discuss how we can help you achieve your goals.
